

2023 April 1st Saturday Plant Sale

The day started a bit cool, but the temps reached the 80s before the sale wrapped up at noon. The plant purchases followed the same pattern; they were slow at first but heated up steadily to over $3000 sold by the end of the day. The warm and sunny weather was a great reason for many to seek out a new plant for their yards. One snowbird de-potted several plants so she could pack them in her suitcase for her trip to her summer home.

The morning ended with a couple pizzas as the sales crew wished Greenhouse Administrator Lisa Sailing a safe trip back to Wisconsin for the summer.
